- Where it is necessary for entering into or to perform the contract with you and appropriate measures are in place to safeguard your rights;
- Where it is authorised by law; and
- In limited circumstances, with your explicit written consent and where appropriate measures are in place to safeguard your rights.

If we make an automated decision on the basis of Special Category Data, we must have either your explicit written consent or it must be justified as a substantial public interest, and we must also put in place appropriate measures to safeguard your rights.

Except where required by law, you will not be subject to decisions that will have a significant impact on you based solely on automated decision-making unless we have given you the opportunity to obtain human intervention, to express your point of view and to contest the decision.

We will keep your personal data for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which it was obtained. The criteria for determining the duration for which we will retain your personal data are as follows:

We will retain your personal data in a form that permits identification only for as long as:

- we maintain an ongoing relationship with you; or
- your personal data is necessary in connection with the lawful purposes set out in this Privacy Notice for which we have a valid legal basis.

Plus, for the duration of:

- any applicable limitation period under applicable law (i.e. any period during which any person could bring a legal claim against us in connection with your personal data, or to which your personal data may be relevant); or
- an additional reasonable period following the end of such applicable limitation period.

In addition to the above:

- if any relevant legal claims are brought, we may continue to process your personal data for such additional periods as are necessary in connection with that claim.

Where your personal data is retained for claim limitation purposes or for a reasonable period thereafter, we will restrict our processing of your personal data to the storage of, and maintaining the security of, those personal data, except to the extent that those personal data need to be reviewed in connection with any legal claim or obligation under applicable law. After this period your personal data will be anonymised so that you are no longer identified or identifiable from such information, or securely deleted/destroyed.

Any third parties that we engage will keep your personal data stored on their systems for as long as is necessary to provide the relevant services to you or us. If we end our relationship with any third-party providers, we will make sure that they securely delete or return your personal data to us.

We may retain personal data about you for statistical purposes. Where personal data is retained for statistical purposes, it will always be anonymised, meaning that you will not be identifiable from that data.

You have the right to have inaccurate personal data rectified, and incomplete personal data completed.

- Right to erasure

You have the right to request erasure of your personal data in certain circumstances.

Occasionally we may require more time to respond to your request if your request is complex. We will notify you within one month to inform you that we require additional time to comply with your request.

In exceptional circumstances where your request is manifestly unfounded or excessive, we may charge you for your request, or refuse to comply with your request. We will always inform you of the reasons for not being able to comply with your request.
